DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's June 24, 2004 Amendment has been reviewed. The previous Office Action is withdrawn pursuant to Applicant's REMARKS.

Drawings

2. The drawing was received on June 24, 2004. These drawings are acceptable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boesch et al., US 6,092,053.

Boesch discloses a method that may be used over the "world wide web" for electronic purchases comprising providing electronic access to a plurality of merchants, e.g. col. 7, lines 60-67, having a unique identification, a purchaser server network, e.g. 160, accessed by purchasers 100, 120, having a unique merchant identification, e.g. col. 6, lines 1-34, col. 7, lines 14-44, product particulars and profiles, e.g. pricing, col. 7, lines 1-13, e-mail and product pick-up locations, e.g. shipping method, col. 6, lines 29-34.

Boesch does not specifically disclose real-time manipulation. However, it would appear inherent that Boesch's web system would have allowed for the particulars of the products offered by the merchants to be viewed by the merchants over a "real-time" period.

Nonetheless, to have provided such would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the merchant/consumer art as real-time access via the web has been common knowledge in electronic consumer art.

Also, intended us, e.g. "allowing . . . to be" from claim 1, line 15, do not positively recite claim limitations that provide patentable subject matter. Applicant's REMARKS have been reviewed regarding this issue, but are not convincing. In effect, no editable function need occur. Thus, there is no exact time period duration limitation for the manipulation of the particulars of the products offered. As is, Boesch's system may allow for manipulation of the particulars by altering the web page listing the products offered over a period of time. Boesch does allow for secure electronic purchases and location identification.

4. Further pertinent references of interest are noted on the attached PTO-892.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
